

STRENGTH, POWER & BEAUTY

Caroline is originally from Amsterdam, Holland but lives in London since 2016. She has had several exhibitions in Holland and in London art galleries over the past years. The majority of Carolines work consists of collections and women shapes, although she made individual art work, she emphasizes on her collections. Strength, Oceans love, Inspired by Picasso, Women in abstract and Let's face it' are her main collections. A distinctive signature from her which returns in all her paintings are straight lines and cubicle shapes mixed with a contemporary art style.

The fashion runways and the beauty of women are what inspired her to create her latest collection 'Strength'. Her background in fashion clearly comes back in this collection.

There is a bit of mystery in the face expression which you have to believe but can also be intriguing. By using elements of abstractionism and realism at the same time there is contradiction in her work, you have to take an extra look and have your own imagination.

As this collection is about the power and beauty exposed by so many different women, 'Strength' is the only true name for her latest collection.

Caroline is starting her art classes in the beginning of 2021. There are two different courses, the two day 'Strength art' class based on the latest collection and the one day 'Oceans Love art' class based on abstract seascapes.

At the end of these courses you should be able to work with acrylic paint, mixing of colours to get the right shades and applying effects by using tape, gold leaves, spray paint and glitters for example.

The main focus in the 'Strength art' classes is becoming acquainted with and how to mix acrylic paint into several skin tones and paint an abstract face and body.

The main focus in the 'Oceans Love art' classes is becoming acquainted with and how to mix acrylic paint into different ocean colours and how to paint a wave.

All art classes are held in a West London venue and have a maximum of 5 persons per session. ■

You can find more of her work and additional information about the paintings and available art classes at caropaintings.com or on Instagram & Facebook @Caropaintings

